i know exeter has a different approach to teaching math and i was hoping some exonians could some light on how well the method works for a student not particularly strong in math. is it harder to follow, or does it help the student see things in a new way? is help readily available?
thanks!

realize the distinct methods and philosophies of teaching at Exeter. One aspect of Exeter that catches students unaware is the math curriculum. I encourage all new students to come to the table with a clear mind. You may not grasp, understand, or even like math at first, but you will be prepared for anything that comes before you.
