In the Garden (1912 song) - Wikipedia

Instantly, completely, there unfolded in my mind the scenes of the garden of Joseph...Out of the mists of the garden comes a form, halting, hesitating, tearful, seeking, turning from side to side in bewildering amazement. Falteringly, bearing grief in every accent, with tear-dimmed eyes, she whispers, "If thou hast borne him hence"...

"In the Garden" is one of his most-loved hymns. According to Miles, the original inspiration for the hymn occurred when he read the passage in the gospels where Mary Magdalene encounters Jesus on the morning of the resurrection. Miles felt as if he were standing there witnessing the reunion between Mary and her Lord. Then he thought, "This is ...
